Notice.

To my customers and the public: J. L. Moore and Charles W. Moore, of this city, doing business under the firm name of the Palmetto Consolidated Soap and Chemical works, having advertised themselves as successors to Stallings & Gilligly, and injuring my business, by representing me as out of business and that they were my successors—I have never had a successor. Thenceforward it is necessary to apply to the courts for relief, and having done so the district court of Sedgewick county, Kansas, by an order made and entered on the 4th day of June, 1890, forever enjoined and restrained the said J. L. Moore and Charles W. Moore, from advertising themselves as successors to Stallings & Gilligly, and from using my name in any manner whatever directly or indirectly in connection with their business.

Yours respectfully,
D. W. STALLINGS,

Daniel M. Casey, Philadelphia's (N. Y. Times) Pitcher.

(Del.) club at $25 a month. His work while with this club was of a very high order, and attracted the attention of the Indianapolis management.

The next year found him pitching for the Hoosiers of the Western league at $200 per month.

When the Western league weakened nearly the entire club was sold to the Detroit league club. Casey's fine work for Detroit made the Philadelphia management want him, and they finally succeeded in securing him at a salary of $250 per month. He pitched great ball for Philadelphia in '88 and '89, and held up his end with the great and only Ferguson.

During the season of '88 Casey was troubled with a lame arm, and his work did not come up to expectations. Last season he did fairly well, but seemed to be troubled with a lack of confidence.

This season he has started out well and bids fair to pitch in his old time style.

MEN WHO RUN.

Private advices from New Zealand bring information that on account of a very strong wind blowing behind the runners in the 100 yard and hurdle races at the championship games last winter, the performances will not go on record. The records caused authorities in America to doubt their fairness, but the explanation received lately makes the matter plain.

C. H. Sherrill, of Yale college, the intercollegiate champion sprinter, makes the ninth amateur who has covered 100 yards in 10 seconds. He did this performance at the recent spring games of his college. He has last year so many times in 10-15 seconds that authorities said it was simply a question of a good track and day when he would do even time.

The recent injury to John Owen, Jr., of the Detroit Athletic club, will retire him from games for some time, but those who are interested in the amateur champion sprinter will be glad to learn that he is not seriously hurt. Severe abrasions and flesh wounds are all that he received by his fall.

The latest story about Harry Bethune, the professional sprinter, who with H. M. Johnson holds the best record, 9.45 seconds for running 100 yards, is that he has been left a fortune by his uncle in Scotland. The probabilities are that if this story is going abroad it is not for the purpose of inquiring into an estate, but for some scheme connected with foot racing.

Joseph P. Visner is a hardy son of the west and a player of high ability. Born in Minneapolis, Minn., in 1890, he first began playing ball in the local clubs of his native town and St. Paul. His first professional engagement was with the Sillwater, Minn., club of the Northwestern League in 1894 as a catcher. He finished the season of 1894 as a member of the Union Pacific team, of Omaha, Neb. He was with Kansas City in 1895, and finished the season with the Rochester club of the newly organized New York State league. He ranked fourth in batting and had a good fielding record. During seasons of 1896 and 1897 he was still a member of the Rochester club, where he continued to do good work.

These betwixt uncertainty as to Rochester having a team in 1898 he joined the Hamilton, Ont., club, also of the International association. Visner kept up his fine work and made a great record for himself. He caught in sixty-four games and ranked third in the official fielding averages. At the close of that season there was a great demand for his services, but he was finally induced to sign with Brooklyn. His work with that team was first class, and helped the club to gain the pennant. This season he is playing right field for the Pittsburgh club of the Players' league.

YACHTING NOTES.

At least half of the yachts in American waters are steam. Fifteen years ago this wasn't even thought of.

The new deed of gift of the America's cup, which obliges the challenging party to give a notice of ten months, has been very severely criticised on the other side. It will be a stumbling block and a subject for controversy for some time to come, and will doubt be a great bar to another international yacht race.

There are 150 organized yacht clubs in the United States at the present time, having a membership of 40,000 with a capital of $50,000.

The fact that there will be no international yacht race this year, is noticed in the death of any new racing material. The only new racing yacht being turned out is one designed by Mr. Burgess for a States Island man. The yacht will be a sloop, forty-one feet over all.

The Mayflower is now enrolled in the Western Yacht club.

Young American Pluck.

Father—Will you divide the marbles with your little brother with or without being whipped?

Bob—I expect I've got to divide, pa, but I'll take the kick first.—New York Press.

The queen dowager of Portugal on one occasion brought home from Paris 1,000 pairs of shoes. Subsequently she ordered no less than twenty quarts from Worth, to be delivered together, which on their way home were lost at sea. Her majesty, no way concerned, sent word to Worth to supply agents duplicates, and there reached Lisbon safely.

The Indians Expecting a Messiah.

The Indians of Tongue River agency, Montana, out of their ancient superstitions and a crude idea of Christianity gained from missionaries, have evolved a Messiah of their own. Their medicine men assert that this spiritual leader is white, that he lives in the mountains, and that he is soon to come forth to destroy the pale faces and restore the Indians to supremacy on the American continent. He has scars on his hands and feet and a spear wound in his side. The excitement over the expected advent of a red men's redeemer is so great that troops have been detailed to watch developments and avert trouble.

Emigration to the West.

If you have friends in the east who contemplate coming west, or if you are going east, remember you can save time and money by buying tickets by buying tickets over the Missouri Pacific railway, the shortest line between St. Louis and Wichita by 45 miles and over. Two hours the quickest time. This is the only line giving you choice of two routes, either via Kansas City or Fort Scott. Pleasant free reclining chair cars between Wichita and St. Louis, also between Kansas City and Wichita, without change of cars. Pullman sleepers on all trains. Be sure that your tickets read via the Missouri Pacific railway and this save annoyance of changing cars and unnecessary delays.

Remember also that no charges are made by carriers for riding in chair cars. These carriers are paid by the company and are not allowed to charge any one, be they local or through passengers. They are hired to attend to the wants of the traveling public.

A Fable.

Once upon a time the Queen of all the "Flours," whose name was Imperial, gave a luncheon to her subjects. When all were seated at the banquet table some of the "low grades" became envious of the queen's charms and popularity and cried out: "We are as good as Imperial!" The royal court messenger, Prince Tally Ho, arrived at that moment in his coach and proclaimed the verdict of the people: "Imperial is supreme. Long live Imperial!" Then the low bred rebels made eye faces and said: "Our cake is dough; we knead
